Preserving Nature for Future Generations

The following BLT properties welcome dogs on leash (with leash in hand):

- Coombs Bogs
- Eagle Pond and Little River Sanctuary
- Fuller Farm
- Lowell Park Woodlands
- Ropes Field

Inviting dogs to enjoy these trails with their owners is a privilege that many people appreciate. Thank you for understanding why keeping your dogs leashed is so important to ensuring these rules are honored, and that this privilege is not abused.

Did you know that dog owners are required to remove & dispose of their pet's waste when visiting conservation land?

- It is a Town of Barnstable law and common courtesy
- Waste can harbor harmful diseases and parasites that can take a full year to decompose
- Dog waste is high in nitrogen and phosphorus and can contaminate our natural water resources
- Healthy ecosystems can only handle the waste of up to 2 dogs/square mile

Did you know

that dogs are required to be leashed at all times (leash in hand) when visiting conservation land?

- It is a Town of Barnstable law and common courtesy
- This keeps your pet and other pets safe from unwanted wildlife and dog encounters
- Not all visitors want to be greeted by a dog, however friendly
- This protects important wildlife habitats that border these trails

Lead by example

with the following tips:

- Get verbal permission before allowing your dog to greet another person or dog, or before approaching a leashed dog
- Be courteous of visitors, with and without dogs, by providing ample passing space
- Respectfully remind dog owners who may not be aware of trail rules and help us build a more understanding community of trail users
